Want to get more exposure and speaking gigs or clients in 2019? Become an author! While it could take a while for you to write your own full book, it's relatively easy to get published in an anthology book. This is where 20-25 authors write just ONE chapter about your expertise then everyone promotes the books and sells them so you get in front of a lot more people than you would with just your own book and marketing it. My friend Katrina Sawa knows this first hand and she's putting together one of these anthology books this year and there are spots open for YOU at a very reasonable cost plus she does all the work. Find out how this could benefit you, what the book is about and how you could fit in here: <https://bit.ly/2HQIf4Y>
